V. Backyard Divisions

The Backyard (Patio) division is specifically for the amateur cooks. The team or its head cook must not have competed in a MBN Divisions at previous contests. This does not include competing previously in a similar competition.

A pulled pork entry (shoulder or butt) is defined by MBN as the portion of the hog containing the arm bone, shank bone, and a portion of the blade bone. The pork ham considered to be a shoulder entry contains the hind leg bone. Boston butts or picnic shoulders may also be used. Judging container: Clam shell Styrofoam takeout

A pork rib entry as defined by MBN is the portion of the hog containing the ribs classified as a spare rib or loin rib portion. Country style ribs are not valid entries. Judging container: Clam shell Styrofoam takeout

Teams must cook with charcoal and/or wood only. No gas cooking is allowed. Charcoal will be sold on a first come first serve basis starting Wednesday. Supply will be limited.

No restaurant affiliations are acceptable.
VI. Judging Rules

All judges will be “trained” and/or “certified” by Memphis Barbecue Network and the scoring and tallying will be handled by Memphis Barbecue Network. All judging will be blind sample only; NO on-site finals.

A. Judging Criteria

a. Appearance of Entry
   This criterion refers to aesthetic, does the entry itself look appetizing at the table (or in the container for blind entries). This is the visual appeal of the entry itself. The judges will be informed of the possibility of a smoke ring or red layer on the top surface of the meat entry, or throughout the entry. Judges are instructed to score the appearance of the entry on the service plate in on-site judging and in the blind container in blind judging. They will ask themselves – “Does this entry look appealing and appetizing?” You should make every effort that the judges see your product at its best.

b. Tenderness of Entry
   In this criterion, the judge will be looking for the firmness but easy separation of the meat. There is a range in barbecue from tough (not cooked) to tender (just right) to mushy (cooked past tender). There should be some texture, but the entry should be moist and easy to chew. When ribs are judged with the meat falling off the bone this sample is judged as overcooked. A mild shake of the rib should leave meat still attached. With loin ribs, one pull/bite should remove meat portion easily. With spare ribs, a bite should leave a half moon crescent in the meat.

c. Flavor of the Entry
   This Criterion refers to the flavor of the meat sample with the sauce. The sauce can be added before, during, or after the cooking process. Dry rubs and marinades may be cooked with the meat juices to make a sauce. If a team does not offer a table sauce, the judges are instructed to score the flavor of the entry based on the sauce made by the rubs/spices added before or during cooking. If a team serves more than one table sauce, the judges are instructed to choose the sauce that, in their opinion, best complements the entry and the flavor score is based on the combination of sauce chosen to go with particular entry. If a sauce is presented with the entry the judges are instructed to score the flavor of the entry based on the combination of sauce and entry.

B: Grand Champion Backyard
   The team with the highest score in Ribs or Butts will win Grand Champions Backyard Division.

C: Ancillary Contests
   Ancillary contests include Sauce, Cocktails, Mystery Box, Brisket, Dessert, and Wings. You may a maximum number of 2 entries in each category except, Mystery Box and Brisket and they both can only have 1.
a. A sauce entry should be a barbecue sauce (tomato base, vinegar base, mustard base) and will be judged on flavor, spice compatibility, aroma and overall impression. Judging container: 6 oz PINK bowl with lid

b. The Mystery Box Challenge will be passed will be provided by Esperanza Bonanza. We will pass all boxes leaving enough time for preparation and cooking. It will be judged on flavor, spice compatibility, aroma, and overall impression. Judging container: Clam shell Styrofoam takeout

c. Cocktail entry will be judged based on flavor, spice compatibility, aroma and overall impression. Judging container: 32 oz Styrofoam cup with lid

d. Dessert entry cannot be store-brought items and may be cooked off-site. Judging container: Clam shell Styrofoam takeout

e. Brisket entry will be judged based on tenderness, flavor, aroma and overall impression. Judging container: Clam shell Styrofoam takeout

f. A wing entry may either be a full wing, drummy portion, or wing portion and will be judged based on tenderness, flavor, spice compatibility, aroma, and overall impression. Judging container: Clam shell Styrofoam takeout

All cooked entries should be prepared on the contest site, although the team may marinate or season the entry off-site. No inspection of the entry is necessary prior to judging. Each team is responsible for observing prudent temperature control and good hygienic practices, bearing in mind that an internal meat temperature of 137 degrees kills trichinosis and 165 degrees kills salmonella.

All Ancillary entries will be judged blind only with one round of judging. One first place winner will be chosen from each of the six (6) categories. Entries must be turned into the judging tent on Friday evening according to the following schedule:
